BOARD OF EDUCATION

Standing: Lorenzo Colvin, Harold Coppus, Arthur Jones.

Sitting: Archie Fruth, Virgil Kline, Paul Pember, Arthur Hoover.

The members of the Hopewell-Loudon board believe in securing the best for the students. We realize that we are responsible for the teaching of the students the democratic principles which we hope they will use as future citizens.

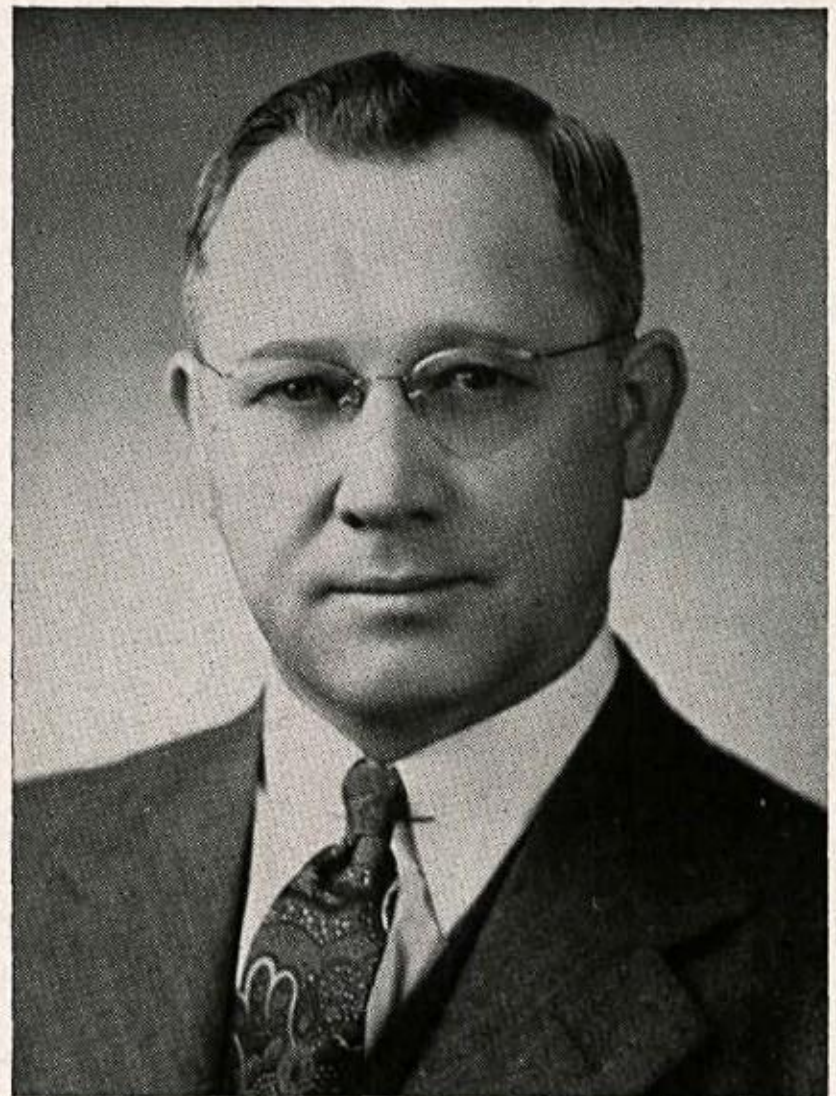

We are proud to give our time and energies so that the school might have a well organized program of operation. We consider very carefully all decisions that are deemed necessary and anything which will better our school program is met with great zeal.

VIRGIL KLINE,

President of the Board of Education.

In a world of rapid social change, it is apparent that there is a need for a type of education that will develop individuals who can think their way through the many problems which as citizens of a democracy they are called upon to solve. The school, church and community are very important agents in the social development of a child. It is my desire that the Hopewell-Loudon School will always carry its share of the responsibility in the development and guidance of its young people for rightful living. May every pupil learn how to communicate with others, how to co-operate with others and how to learn from others.

A. W. JONES.

I am happy to have this opportunity to extend greetings, both personal and official to readers of the Scarlet and Gray.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1948

One September day, back in the year 1939, the fourth grade room opened its door to the students who were proud to cross that threshold. Most of the students assembled from the one-room brick school houses spread throughout the two townships. Because of this it was a group of strangers gathered that day to begin a school life which was to end only after nine years of schooling.

Through the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, these strangers became acquainted with one another. These years passed by with a slow meandering way which seemed endless. One thing which was always looked forward to was the summer vacation. Of course, when the first day of the vacation came there was much rejoicing. We can look back on these years and remember Miss Good, Miss Brickner, and Miss Doran.

The next year we were "upstairs" and naturally our heads were in the clouds, but we found the going more difficult. I imagine sometimes we wished we were back in the grades where we could rely on the teacher instead of ourselves.

Then came the year we had all waited on. It was our final year before entering high school and it seemed to pass slowly. We can very well remember the pleasant days we spent with Mrs. Kelbley.

At last the big year arrived, we were Freshmen in High School and we certainly thought we were somebody. At the beginning of the year we elected the following class officers: Eugene Brickner, president; Mary Kinn, vice-president; Leona Bibbee, secretary; Pat Ruble, treasurer. The biggest event of the year was the Freshman-Sophomore Prom which was attended by almost everyone. This was the year that the members of the class selected the courses they were going to follow. Many decided to follow vocational courses and others chose the commercial and college preparatory courses.

Also at this time the members of our class began to take an active part in extra-curricular activities which consisted of F.F.A., F.H.A., Y-Teens, Chorus, Band, Basketball, Debate, Latin Club, etc.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year we elected the following class officers: Eugene Brickner, president; Mary Kinn, vice-president; Donna Jean Warns, secretary; Pat Ruble, treasurer.

The biggest event of the year was again the Freshman-Sophomore Prom which was a great success.

"Just one more year to go after this one."

We went into the Junior class with the preceding thought imbedded in our minds. At the election of class officers the following were elected to office: Frazer Leuck, president; Eugene Hoover, vice-president; Eugene Brickner, secretary; Mary Kinn, treasurer. We had an enjoyable year and the days flew by with great rapidity.

We had two big events this year—the Junior Class play and the Junior-Senior Prom. We enjoyed working on and presenting our play which proved to be a success as we set a record for the most money ever taken in on a play in our school. With the money made from the play we hired an orchestra from Findlay and treated the Seniors to a Prom, which was held at the Fostoria Women's Club.

Now we were ready to begin our final year of schooling. In our hearts we have a deep feeling of regret for those who have moved to other schools or have otherwise been dropped from our class. However, we have a feeling of rejoicing for those who have entered our class from other schools and hope they have enjoyed our company in the past years.

Our Senior year was found to be well-filled with many exciting events. Probably the most important were: making up the annual, working on our class play, attending the Junior-Senior Prom and, of course—graduation.

Special recognition should go to Frazer Leuck, as Valedictorian; and Mary Kinn, as Salutatorian. Our class officers were: president, Bernarl Bouillion; Frazer Leuck, vice-president; Irene Brickner, secretary; Pat Ruble, treasurer.

Now that we have finished school the group of strangers who assembled nine years ago and became close friends through the intervening years are ready to break away from each other and tread their own paths. However, we all wish we could assemble for another nine years.

CLASS WILL OF 1948

I, Bernard Bouillon, will my ability to run down fences to Mr. Bigham, but will keep my Chevvy.

I, Eugene Brickner, will my vocabulary to Mr. Adams, but will keep my seniority at the American Clay for future use.

I, Irene Brickner, will my presidency of F.H.A. to Helen Hoover and my homeroom seat to the next unlucky Junior.

I, Mary Brickner, will my blonde hair to Joan Bloom and my Home Economics ability to my sister, Leila.

I, Marjorie Burns, will my ambition to play a violin to Mr. John Kemper, and my shorthand ability to Ann Foor.

I, Mary Creeger, will my quietness to my sister, Dorothy, and my shortness to Jean Bowerman.

I, Barbara Droll, will my bashfulness to Jane Eschenbrenner and my simple hair-do to Joan Gurney.

I, Delilah Fruth, will my Chemistry ability to Jane Painter, but will keep my driving ability.

I, Lewis Haugh, will my photographic ability to David McKay.

I, Gene Hoffman, will my driver's license to Jack Smith and my ability for playing hookey and being late to Paul Comer.

I, Eugene Hoover, will my ability to keep quiet to anyone who doesn't want their business known, and my superior qualities in Chemistry class to Irma Kinn.

I, Mary Kinn, will my position of librarian to my sister, Irma, but shall keep my shorthand ability.

I, Frazer Leuck, believing myself to be of sound mind and body, do will and bequeath my saxophone and my grade cards to Jerry Marshall, in the hope that he can use them.

I, Rose Rahrig, will my teen age fads to Margaret Hudson and my shortness to Bob Theis.

I, Roma Reinhard, will my studiousness to my little brother, but will keep my interest in Tiffin.

I, Patricia Ruble, will my curly hair to Mr. Bigham, but will keep my ability for playing cards in the Girls' Locker Room.

I, Fred Scaife, will my track shoes to Bill Feasel, but will keep my Chemistry for further use.

I, Leo Smith, will my basketball ability to Don Coppus and my Chemistry grades to Donna Grieves.

I, Mary Steinmetz, will my hair-do to Joan Gurney, but will keep my interest in New Riegel.

I, Anthony Tiell, will my bass violin to Catherine Smith.

I, Raymond Valentine, will my ability to sing, farm, and preach to Mr. J. Earl Adams.

I, Eugene Walliser, will my truck to Jack Smith, but will keep my motorcycle.

I, Donna Jean Warns, will my cheerleader uniform to the next lucky Freshman, and my place in band to Bill Feasel.

I, Jeanne Wyans, will my ability to blow bubble gum to Dorothy Miller and my shortness to Kate Fox.

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1948

As I stood in my lab., (knee deep in broken glass, dropped by my colleague, Fred Scaife) the idea suddenly struck me that I would like to renew my acquaintance with my classmates of Forty-eight. So, we boarded a train and headed for Bascom.

We arrived in Bascom on Sunday morning in time to go to St. Patrick's Church and hear Father Hoffman preach an enlightening sermon.

Wishing to rent a car, we went to Walliser's garage where we saw our old classmate, Gene, who, believe it or not was married to Roma. We decided to look up our old classmate Gene Hoover, who was chief purchasing agent for the American Clay, and Gene Brickner, who was vice-president in charge of production. Mr. and Mrs. Brickner (formerly Pat Ruble) had us all out to Sunday dinner, and all twelve children are doing fine. Hoover, as you may have guessed, was married to Mary Kinn.

Somehow, Delilah got wind of the three of us being in town, (Fred has married Mary Alice Creeger two weeks after he graduated from Heidelberg) and she invited us to her wedding on Monday afternoon. Delilah was clamping the ball and chain on her third man. While there, we saw Irene and Mary Brickner and their husbands, Jerry Boes and Junior Frankhart, respectively. We also saw Anthony and Charlotte Tiell with their three sets of twins. It was, incidentally the second big wedding of the month, Leo Smith and Donna Jean Warns having taken the vows. Leo is doing a fine job managing the store, while Donna Jean has a full time job teaching the First Grade at Hopewell-Loudon.

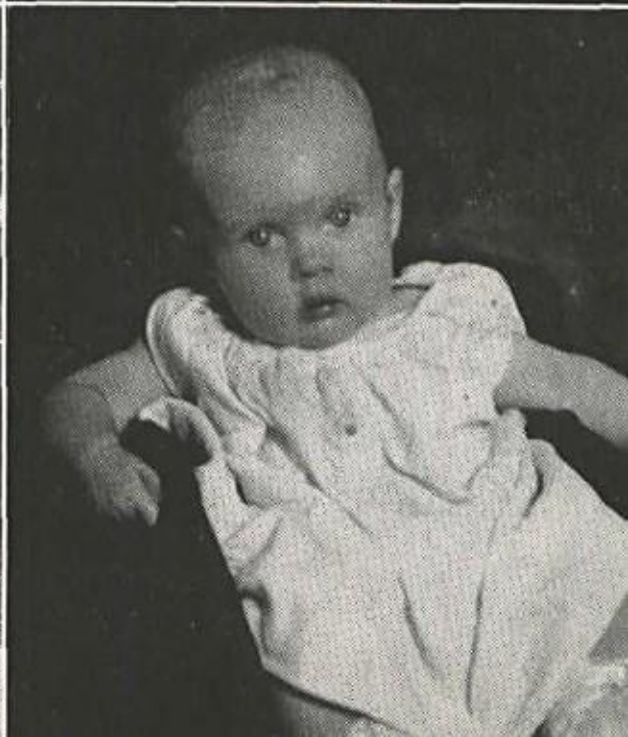

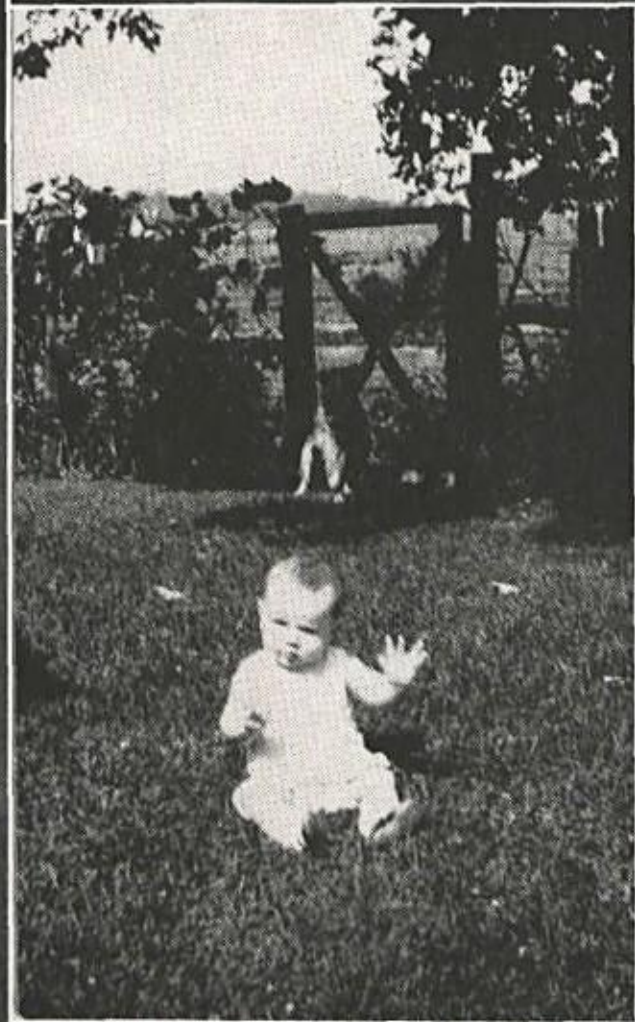

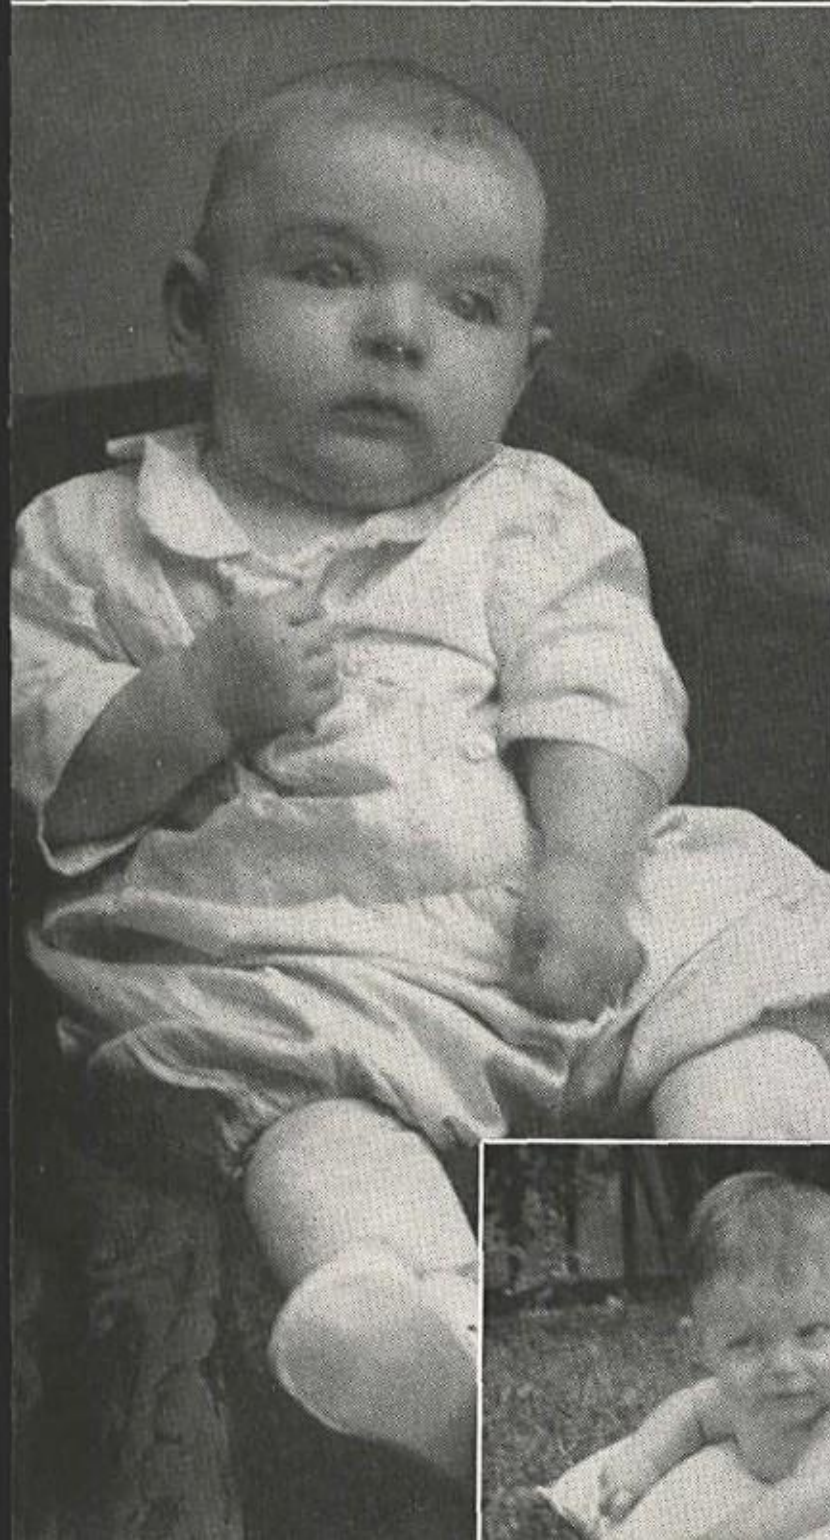

The reception was held at Meadowbrook Park under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Haugh. Lewis married Donna Jean Lawless some years ago.

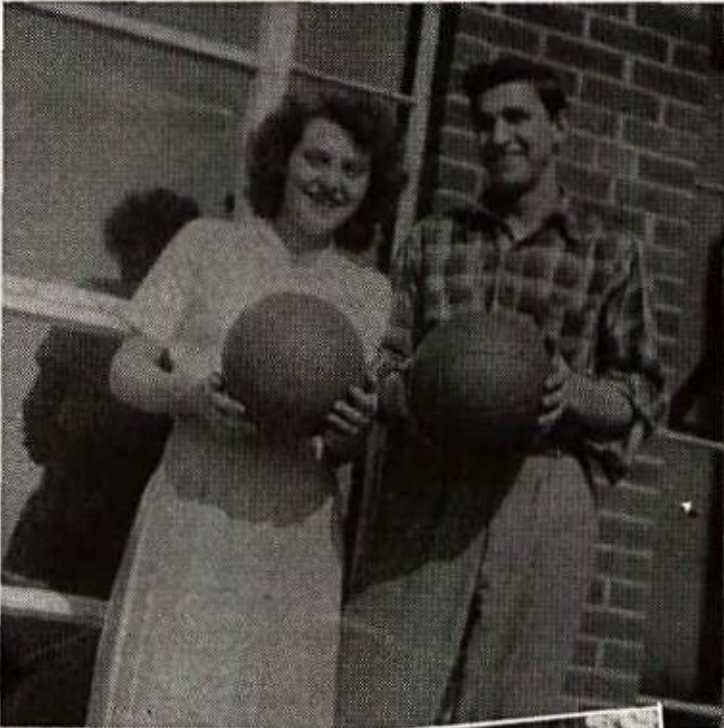

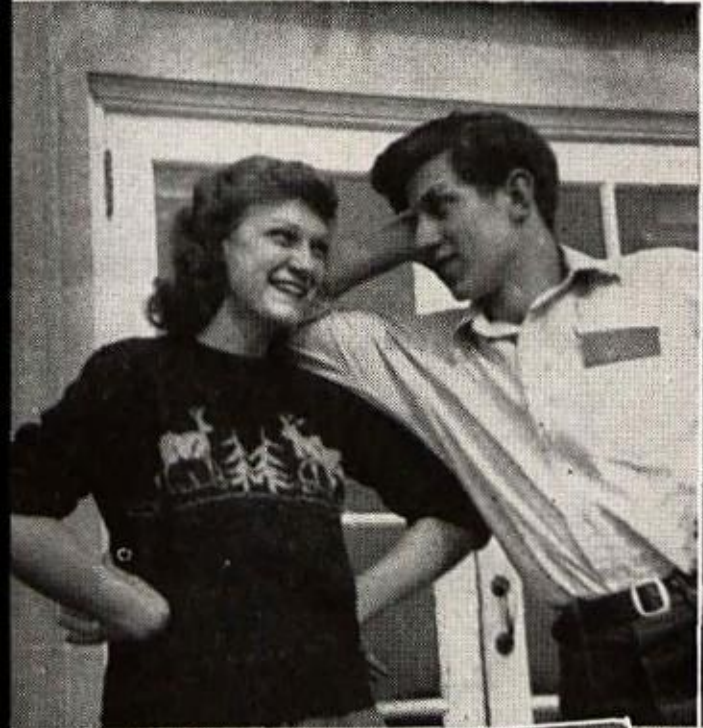

While there, I stumbled and fell, but was caught by Bernard Bouillon, who was just leaving on his weekly trip to Kirby. As it was getting late, I was heading for the door to leave, when I heard an inhuman scream. I was considerably disturbed, but Bernard told me it was only Ray Valentine beating his wife, Barbara Droll, again. Suddenly there was a shout of rage and we rushed out, only to see Ray holding a broken arm. Apparently, he had hit her too hard. Fred rushed him to Mercy Hospital, where, of course, he received only the best of attention from Rose Rahrig, who has advanced to an excellent position as Head Nurse. While there, also we had the privilege of visiting Mrs. Morrie Houck (Mary Steinmetz) and Morrie, Jr., who were coming along nicely. Marjorie Burns, also a nurse, was stationed in Cincinnati Hospital, and so Ray did not get all the attention that he would have liked.

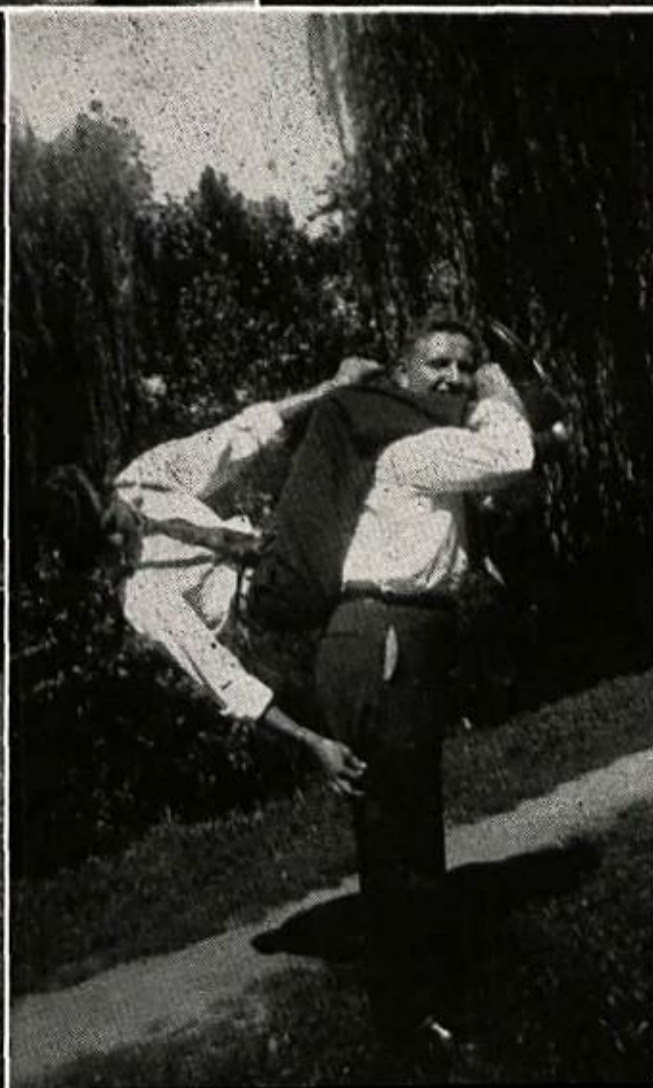

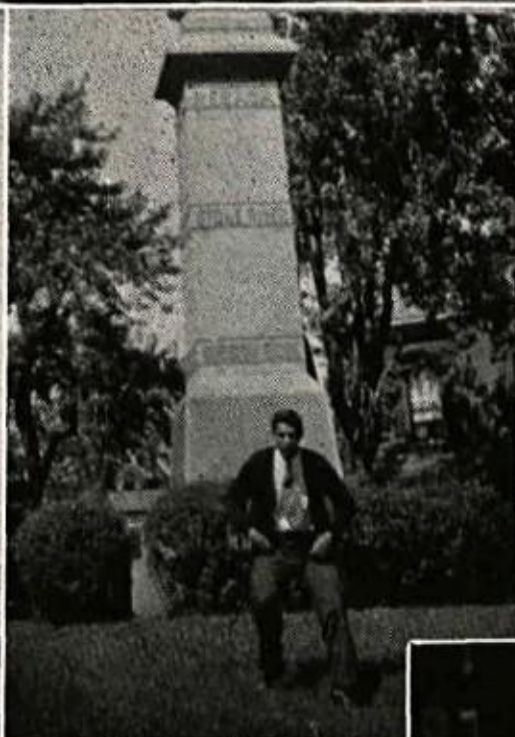

On the last day of our stay, the three of us were invited to a late supper at Mr. and Mrs. Euky Walters, (Jeannie Wyans, to you) and then caught the train home.

The Annual staff of the Scarlet and Grey was elected in December by the class. The staff started meeting together, and made their plans for the annual. The photographer came out shortly thereafter and the annual began to take shape. It has been a great deal of work for part of the staff to see this annual through; and our rewards come to us in the satisfaction of knowing that we have accomplished a masterful undertaking.

JUNIOR CLASS

The membership of the Honor Society is composed of students having a "B" average or above, consisting of all Junior and Senior Scholars.

Being a member of this organization automatically makes you a member of the County Honor Society, which in turn is composed of all honor societies of Seneca County Centralized High Schools.

Officers are elected from the students belonging to the society and they carry on the meetings. The county meetings are held twice each semester in which educational and recreational programs are enjoyed.

It is considered a great honor to be a member. This enables you to associate with the top students of other high schools, to learn their views on different subjects, and to observe the various reactions as these different schools come in contact with one another.

VETERANS

Under the direction of Ralph Stacy, the Veterans met at various times to be taught newer principles of farming and different ways of doing things that are found to be both complicated and time-wasting. Through the association with each other we became acquainted with many different forms of farming, of repairing farm implements, and methods of doing different things.

We feel that the time spent in studying and attending this course will prove to be a great help to us in the future.

HOPEWELL-LOUDON SHORT COURSE

The Hopewell-Loudon Short Course of 1947-1948 met every Wednesday night during the early part of the season and every Monday night the latter part of the season. The course started December 17, 1947, and ended March 22, 1948. Altogether there were 13 sessions. The course dealt with the overall problem of Soils Management in Hopewell and Loudon townships, although one session was devoted to "saving feed in '48" and one to Agriculture Outlook in '48. An average attendance of 23.2 consisted of both young and adult farmers since there were not enough nights in the week for separate courses. Veterans also attended and received credit in their veterans training program.

Probably the most outstanding result of the course was the starting of a movement in Hopewell and Loudon townships for a Soil Conservation District in Seneca County. A district soil conservationist from Findlay, Mr. Bradefute, was present at one session and explained the "Soil Conservation District." Byron Gamble, County Agricultural Extension Agent, was present at one session for a discussion of "Saving Feed in 1948."

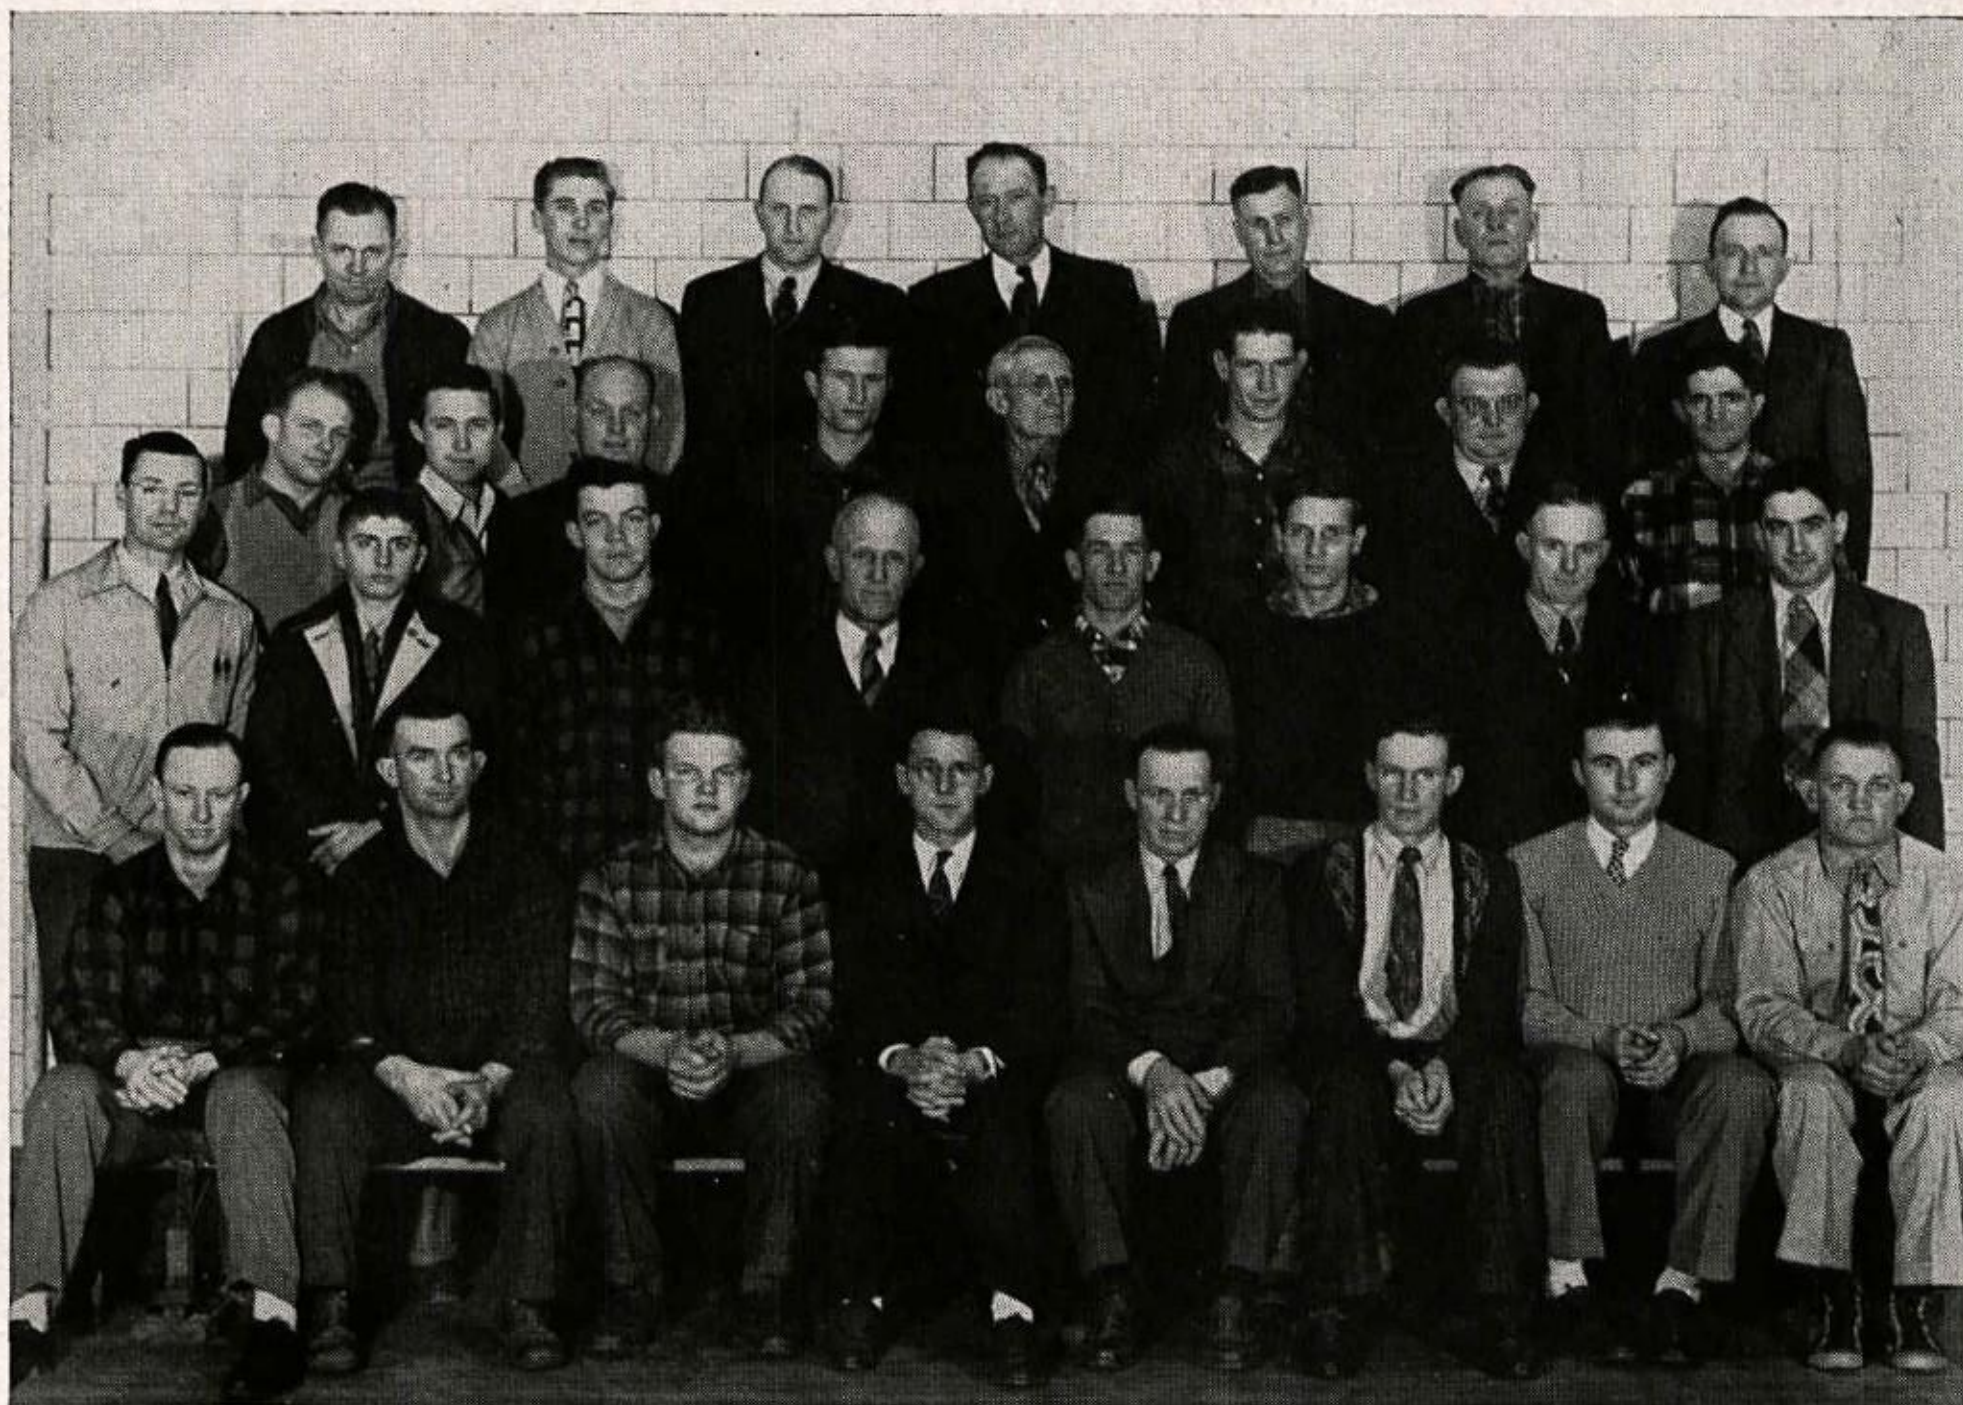

The remainder of the course dealt with problems of maintaining soil productivity balance, rotations; efficient use of lime, fertilizers and manure; securing grass seedings; developing a pasture program and others.

HOPEWELL--LOUDON BAND DRUM MAJORETTES

Under the direction of Mr. Goetz, the Hopewell-Loudon Band has just ended a very successful year and are looking forward to an entertaining and enjoyable summer.

It is great to be a member of a band because of the social contacts you make and also because of the traveling that is connected with it.

However, in order to be a member of a band, much hard work must be accomplished and many hours must be spent in diligent practice and study.

Through the school year, our band practices every last period on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. During the summer vacation we practice every Friday night. These practices help us to learn new pieces and to play together so that we may give a worth-while program wherever we go.

Our band has many interesting features, probably the most outstanding are the scholastic average, which is a "B"; the average age, which is about that of an eighth grader; the average height, about five feet; and the average experience, which is about two years.

The band makes many appearances throughout the year, such as parades, ball games, fairs, and concerts. Every member of the band enjoys putting on his uniform and doing his best to please an audience.

Of our many appearances, the most outstanding was the one we made during the District Band Clinic, which was held at Bucyrus. We received a "II" rating and this was good enough for us to enter the State Band Clinic, which was held at the Ohio State University in Columbus. This proved to be another outstanding appearance. Of the sixteen bands from schools of our size, one band received a "I" rating. We were one of the bands in the group that received the "II" rating and still other bands received a "III" rating.

Drum Majorettes: Dorothy Miller, Jeanne Wyans, Jane Eschenbrenner.

There are certain events throughout the year that call for music and a band would be out of place furnishing this music. So to remedy this we have an orchestra composed of the better players of the band along with several people who play string instruments. During the school year these people meet every Tuesday and Thursday the last period to practice. When an event comes up in which they can be used, they are prepared to participate. This is a group that can be tailored in size to fit the needs of any event.

Every year the better singers and musicians of the class B schools of this county get together for a day to present a program of music. These people from the various schools come together in a friendly manner and mold themselves into a single choir and a single orchestra. From early in the morning through the day they practice together for perfection. Then during the evening they present a program to the public. These programs are always very good and give the public something different in entertainment.

SENECA COUNTY MUSIC FESTIVAL

On April 14, 1948, the Seneca County Orchestra met under the direction of Professor Arthur Williams to present the annual county program of music. Along with this the County Choir met under the direction of Professor F. E. Ohl with Mrs. Nester as the accompanist.

VARSITY

COACH AND CAPTAIN

The Chieftains' cheers were heard on many a night during the past basketball season as our fighting five engaged their foes and fought for the glory of old H. L.

With the cheerleaders leading the fans in cheering our team didn't concede the game till the last whistle. One interesting and outstanding feature of this season has been the way the community and students have stayed behind the team no matter what happened.

Standing: Jay Rainey, Bruce Eberly, Donald Kline, Robert Cool, Curtis Wyans, Edward Frankart, Ronald Colvin, Gerald Shumway, Robert Theis, Duane Norris, Eugene Margraf, Donald Engeman, Coach Adams.

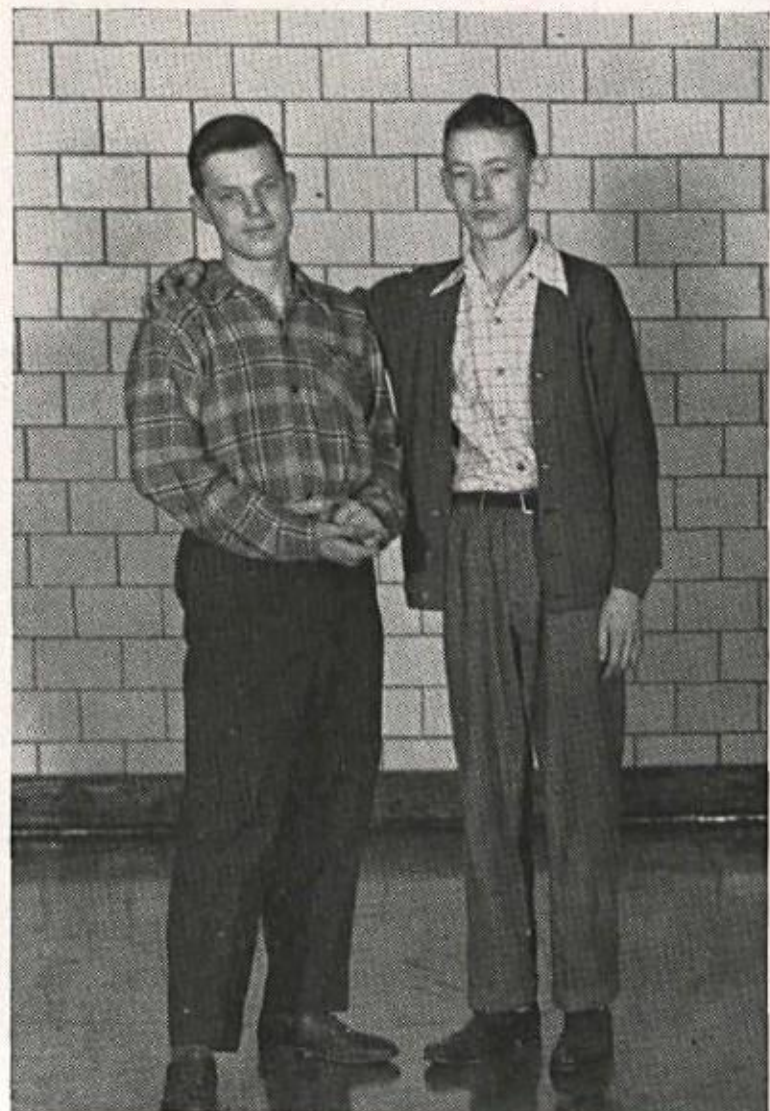

Kneeling: Richard Haugh, Melvin Steinmetz.

RESERVES

MANAGERS

The team tried to take their victories and defeats with equal smiles even though at times it was difficult.

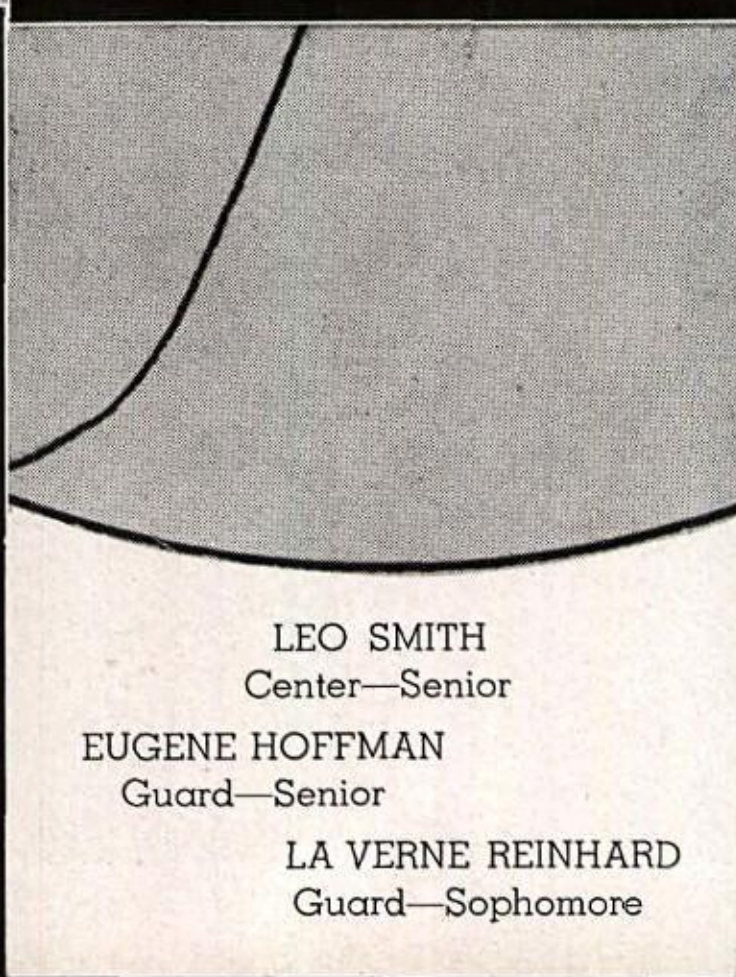

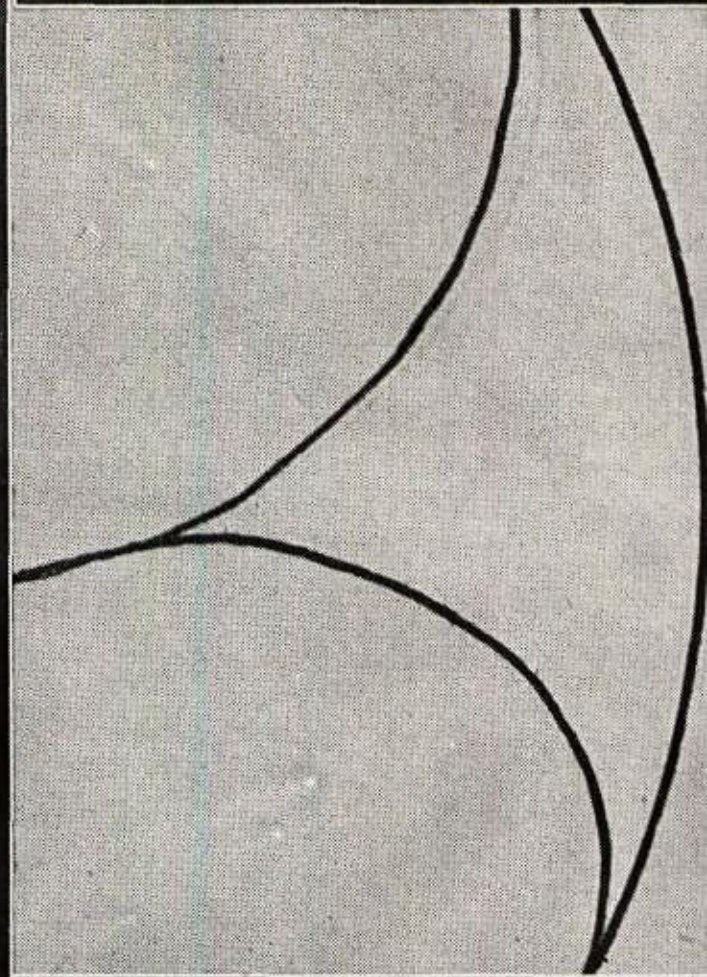

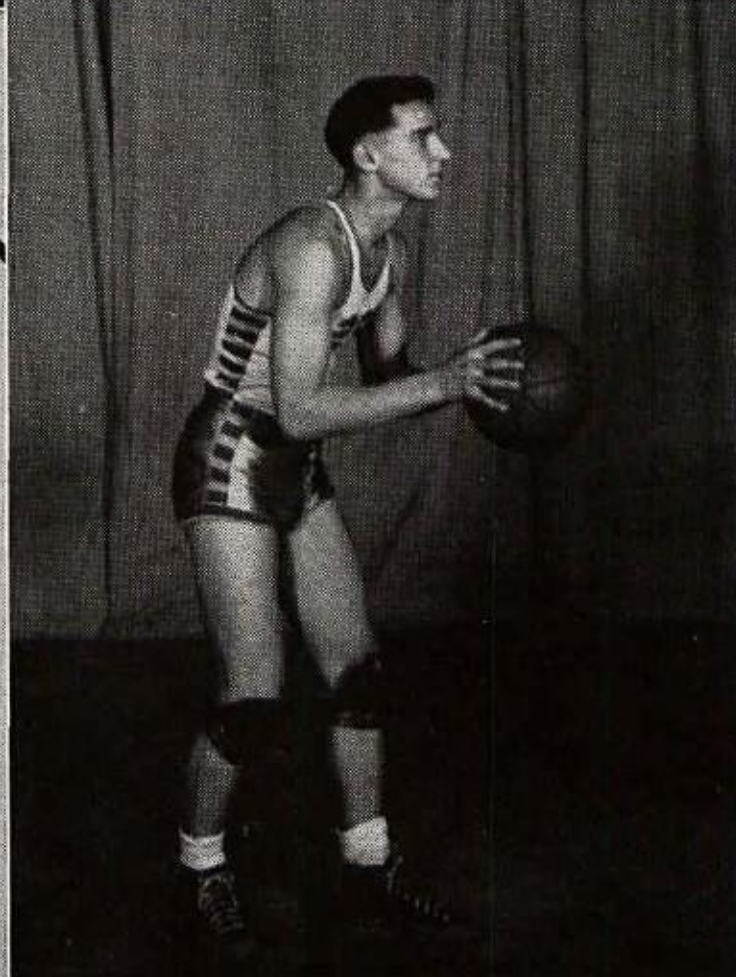

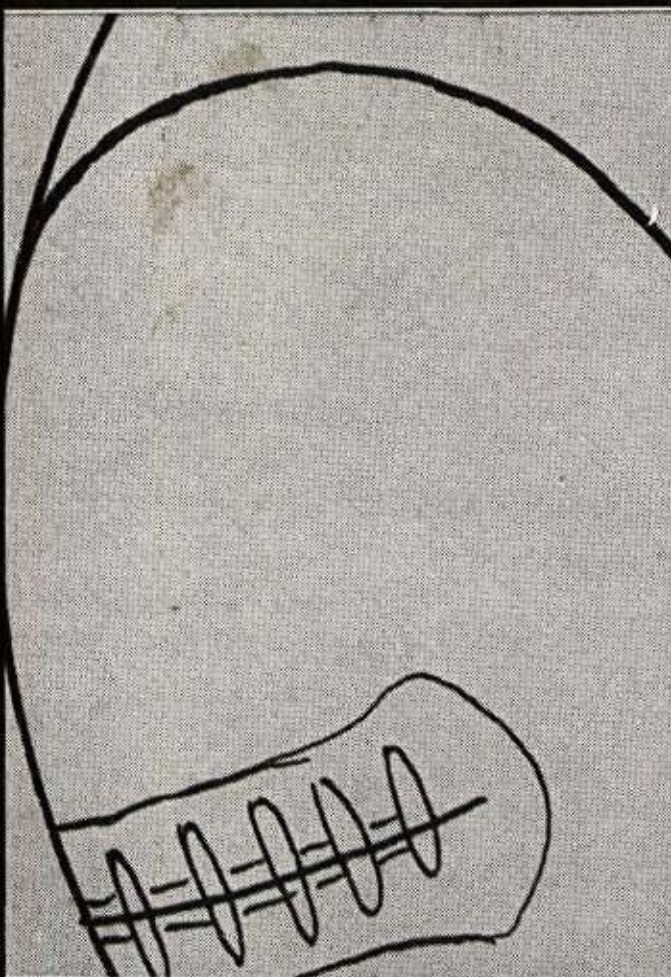

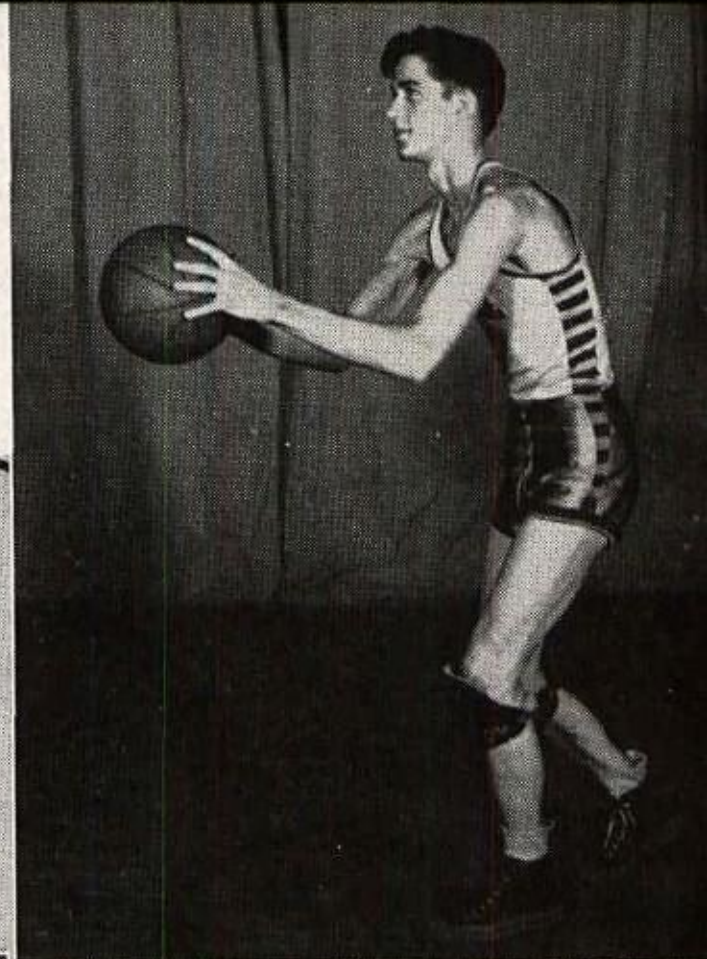

All in all, we had a good season and hope that next year it will be even better. Many players from this season will be back for a couple of years and we hope they keep on with their fine playing on the future teams of H. L.

TRACK

Without the cheers from the gallery, these boys go out on their individual own and fight for the predominance of H. L. This sport does not require the teamwork that other sports do. However, there is a certain code of distinction between men of the track and field that cannot be found elsewhere.

When you have finished an event you have exerted yourself to the extent of almost dropping in your tracks.

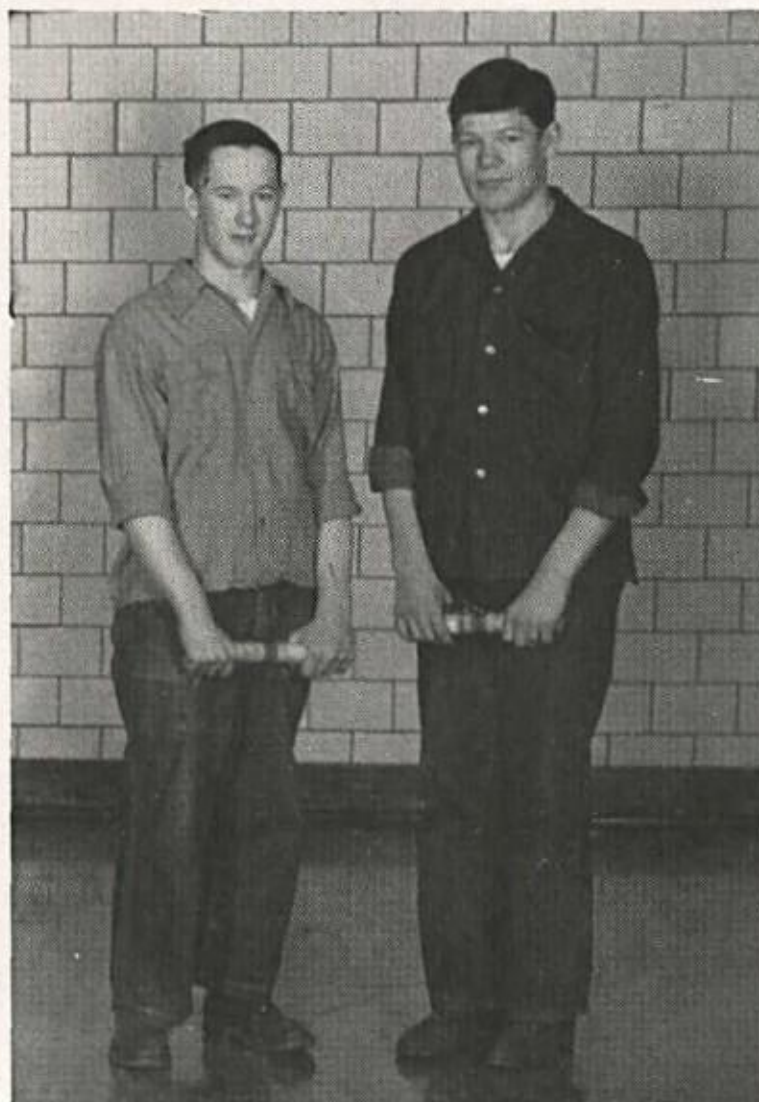

Standing: Wiliam Feasel, Jack Smith, Coach Adams, Leo Smith, Duane Norris.

Kneeling: Fred Scaife, Robert Jardine, Bernard Bouillon, Robert Cool.

MANAGERS

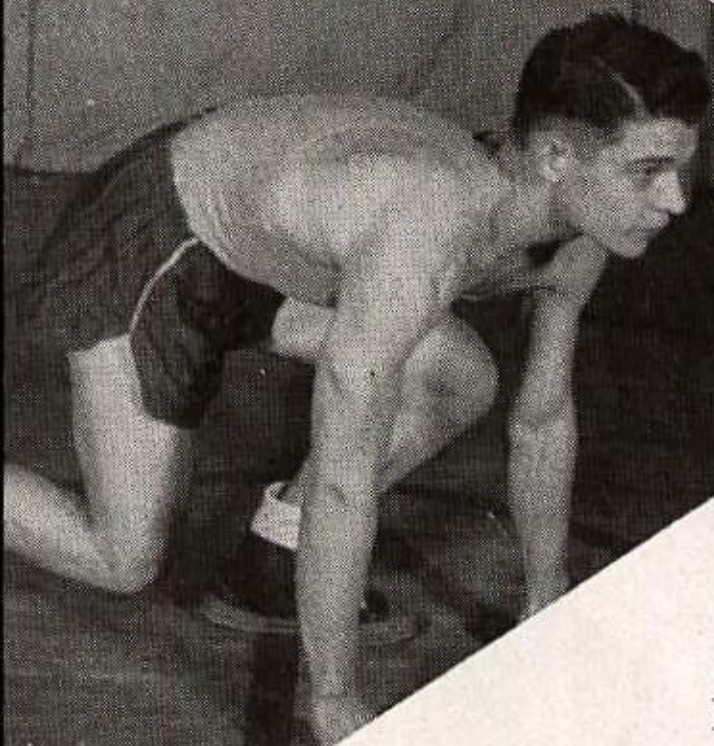

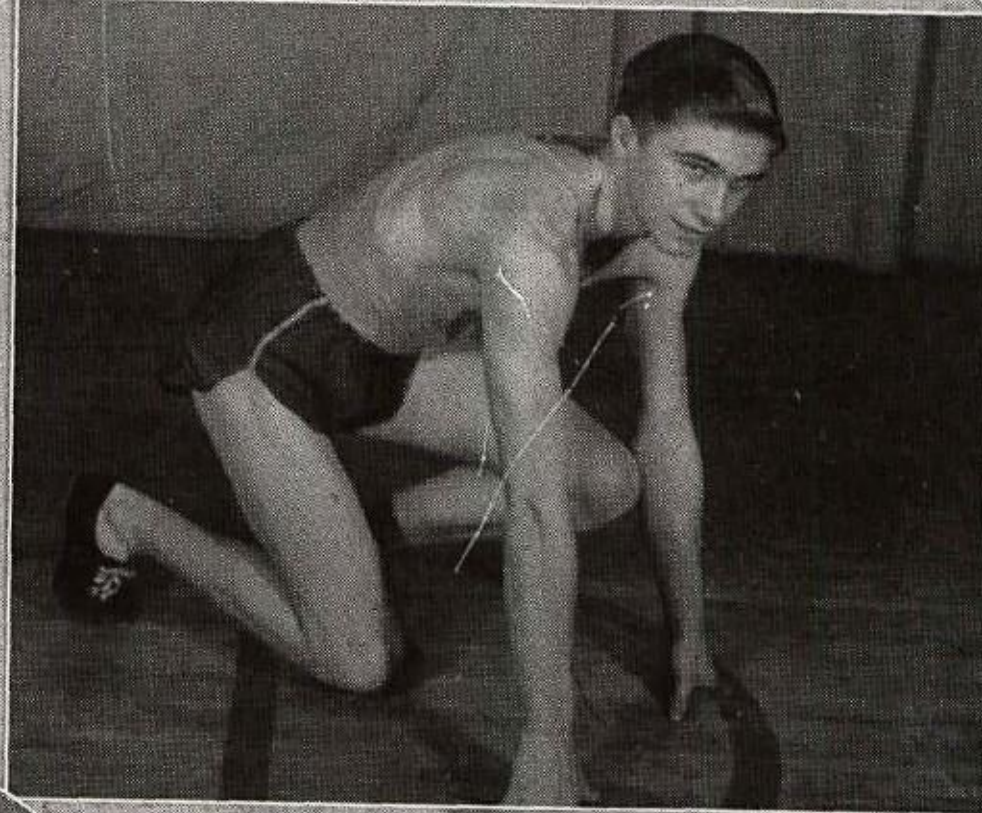

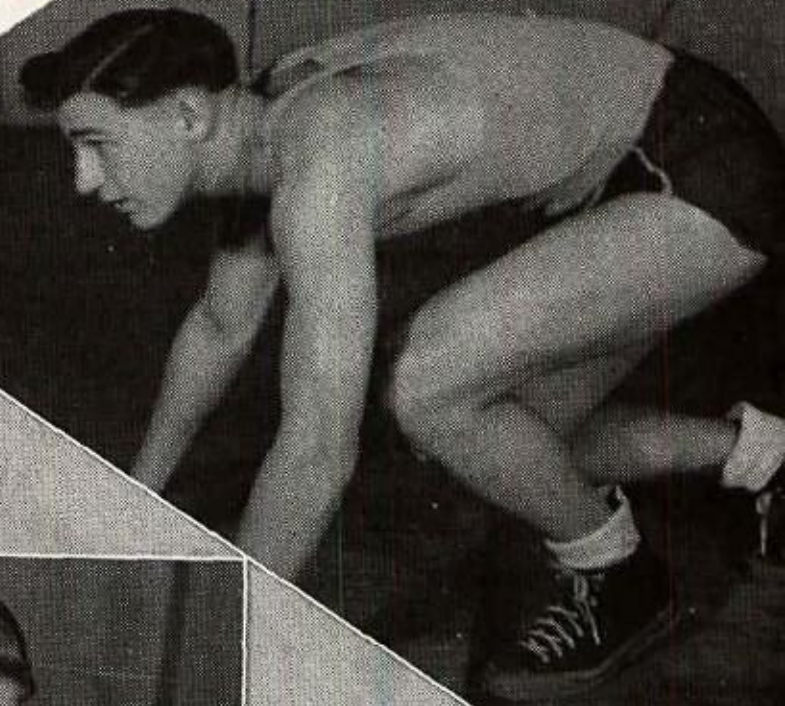

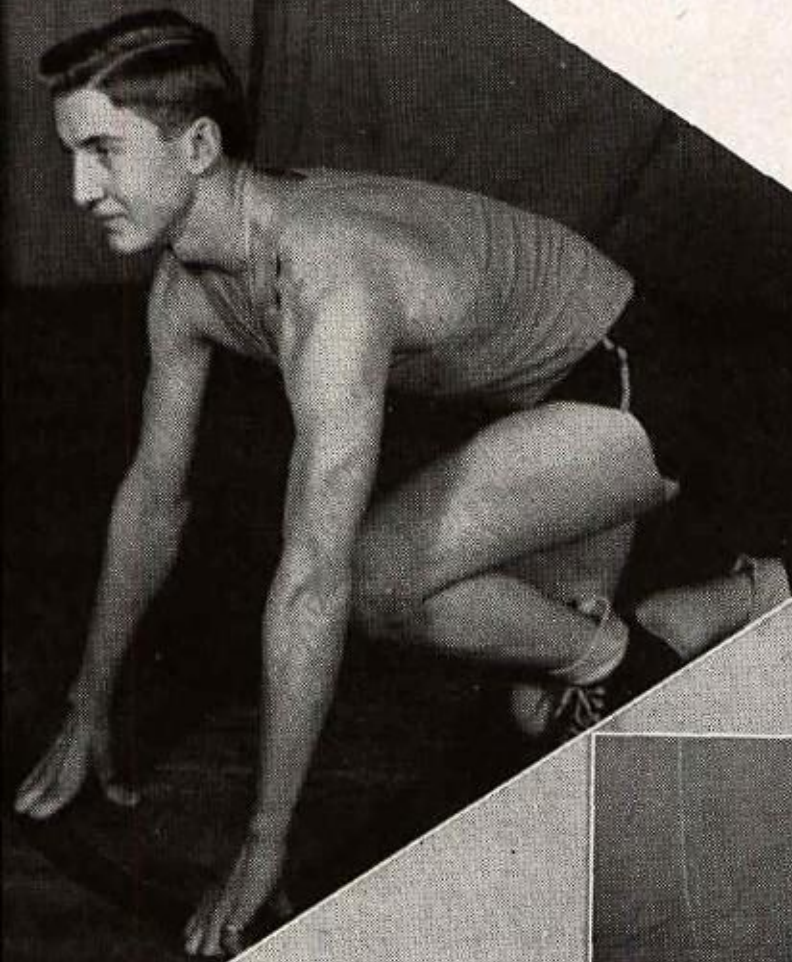

If you finished with a first or second place in the event you have an inward feeling of glory that cannot be equaled, but if you finished near the end of the event you have a sick feeling that requires time to leave your body.

So our hats are off to these boys who are willing to enter the various track and field events and give their best against the best.
